

Privacy Officers Roles and Responsibilities

The role and responsibilities of the Privacy Officer are vital in organisations to establish, maintain and improve privacy management practices. Whilst having an appointed Privacy Officer is mandatory under certain privacy regulations (GDPR, Australian Government Agencies APP Code, etc.), there are multiple benefits of having a dedicated privacy resource regardless of the organisation's size and structure. To realise some of these benefits, a sample of the key responsibilities of the Privacy Officer are outlined below:

Key Privacy Officer Roles and Responsibilities

Contact Information

Ewen Ferguson
Managing Director

Direct: +61 478 491 056
ewen.ferguson@protiviti.com.au

Ghislaine Entwisle
Managing Director

Direct: +61 431 285 494
ghislaine.entwisle@protiviti.com.au

Hirun Tantirigama
Director

Direct: +61 423 853 453
hirun.tantirigama@protiviti.com.au

Marc Coleman
Senior Manager

Direct: +61 405 189 472
marc.coleman@protiviti.com.au